

Integrated Packaging Systems FZCO provides complete solutions to the processing and packaging industries across the Middle East and Africa. Headquartered in the emirate of Dubai, we strive for detail and ensure that each customer receives the best quality in product and service.

We are currently looking for candidates who wish to be part of our dynamic team in the Middle East.

Validation Engineer (m/f) for Microbiology and Process Engineering (Dubai, UAE)

Tasks and responsibilities:

- Microbiological validation of filling machines at customer sites
- Consulting customers in microbiology and hygiene management
- Support of re-commissioning works after machine overhaul and -retrofit
- Supervision of machine commissioning with respect to parameter passing
- Consulting customers in terms of quality management

Requirements:

- University degree in Food Engineering, Process Engineering, Biotechnology, Beverage Technology, or Milk Technology
- Alternatively: Technician with focus on brewing, beverage, or milk
- Experience in beverage microbiology
- Independent and goal oriented working style
- Fast learning ability and focus on essential aspects
- Strong communication skills in English
- High level of international mobility (90%) with focus on Middle East and Africa

If you are looking for a challenging opportunity in a multinational environment, please send your application and motivation letter to laura.mielenz@krones.ae. We look forward to hearing from you.

For further information visit www.ipsdubai.com and www.krones.com.